

EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY/MISSION

As advocates for children, the Ellsworth School Committee (ESC) recognizes that the thorough and efficient education of children is its primary statutory-based responsibility. To this end, the ESC considers proper and adequate support of Ellsworth School Department (ESD) schools to be a civic responsibility shared by all citizens.

The ESD will provide an educational environment designed to encourage each student to acquire the necessary skills and perspectives needed for a meaningful life and career. All ESD schools will strive to encourage students to form desirable habits that are necessary for them to become responsible, informed citizens. In general, the ESC aims to have students develop attitudes and practices necessary for satisfying, worthwhile lives.

The ESC believes that all children must be provided equal but not identical opportunities to allow them to achieve at levels commensurate with their abilities, and that all students must learn in an environment which allows them to develop positive attitudes toward themselves and genuine respect for others.

A rigorous core curriculum designed to achieve specific learning outcomes will be provided. It will be planned with the goal of creating and maintaining standards which will furnish ESD students with the skills necessary for success in a global society while giving them a broad educational foundation compatible with their interests, aptitudes and aims. The curriculum and graduation requirements will be regularly evaluated to ensure their continued appropriateness.

In order to achieve our goals and to implement this philosophy, we believe that all ESD schools must secure the involvement of the community, students, staff, parents and citizens. Educational responsibility must be shared with important community institutions. The ESC strongly believes that our school system's success depends on good rapport and cooperation with our communities and its institutions.

The ESC recognizes the professional staff as the body that is legally charged with the responsibility of providing education to all children. In fulfilling this responsibility, the staff will seek to ensure the following:

- A. All children will master basic skills in the areas of language arts, mathematics, science, history, and technology.
- B. Instruction will be provided which is appropriate to each individual with respect to goals, methodology and evaluation.
- C. Students will be seen in their totality as physical, mental, social, and aesthetic beings, which requires a knowledge of child growth and development.
- D. ESD staff members, in order to effectively execute their responsibilities, will establish goals for themselves consistent with the philosophy of the ESC and individual ESD schools. Staff members will engage in a self-evaluation process for the purpose of self-improvement--the ultimate objective being an improved instructional program for all ESD students.

- E. The ESC recognizes that this highly technological society demands that students learn how to cope with change and learn to accept that "learning" is a continuous process.

The ESC fully accepts the responsibility of formulating policies and acquiring adequate funding to support the education process. The ESC will always consider the welfare of students as the single most important factor in making decisions relative to educational policy. It will be the responsibility of the ESC and administrators to promote sound educational practices and professional development.
